I am an Associate Professor in the Department of History at Wake Forest University where I teach a range of classes related to African pasts. My research work centers on urban Ghana, specifically the ways in which different groups of city residents shaped their urban surroundings. My current book project is on the history of Sekondi-Takoradi, c. 1890 to 1960.

Takoradi Harbor, c. 1960. This deep-water port was pivotal not only to the planned confines of Takoradi, but to the wider history of Sekondi-Takoradi for most of the 20th century.
